

DATA CONTROLLER

This page describes the means of management of this site as concerns the treatment of personal information of the users who consult it. Information on this point is provided, also pursuant to art. 13 and 14 of the EU Regulation no. 2016/679 to those who interact with the internet services, accessible from the following website:

www.exetra.com

This document also takes into consideration Recommendation no. 2/2001 adopted by the European data protection authorities regarding certain minimum requirements for collecting personal data on-line.

This information notice is provided solely for this website and not for any other websites that the user may access via links.

The Data Controller is Exetra SpA with registered office in Milan, via Monte di Pietà 12 – Postal code 20121

TREATMENT OF INFORMATION

Treatment connected to web services of this site are managed by technical personnel of the office in charge of the treatment. No information resulting from the web service is communicated or disseminated. Personal information provided by users who request documentation are used for the sole purpose of providing the service or satisfying the request and are communicated to third parties only if necessary to this end.

MEANS OF TREATMENT

Personal information is treated with automated instruments for the sole time strictly necessary to achieve the purposes for which it has been collected.

Specific security measures are complied with to prevent the loss of information, illicit or unfair uses and unauthorised accesses.

TYPES OF INFORMATION TREATED

Information provided by users on a voluntary basis

The optional, explicit and voluntary forwarding of e-mails to the addresses indicated on this website entails the subsequent acquisition of the e-mail address of the sender, necessary to reply to the requests, and of any other personal data that may be included in the communication. The use of personal data can only take place after the sender has given explicit consent by ticking the appropriate box and it is condition sine qua non to manage the requests made by the user and to perform the services.

Surfing information

ICT systems and software procedures which are responsible for the functioning of this website acquire, as part of their normal exercise and for the sole period of connection, personal information whose transmission is implicit in the use of Internet communication protocols.

Such information is not collected to be associated to identified parties, but which for its very nature may, via processing or association with information held by third parties, permit the identification of users. This category includes the IP addresses or domains of computers used by surfers who access the site, the Uniform Resource Identifier addresses of requested resources, the time of the request, the method used to submit the request to the server, the size of the file obtained in response, the number code indicating the state of the reply given by the server (ok, error, etc.) and the other parameters relative to the operating system and the user's IT environment. Such information is used for the sole purpose of obtaining anonymous statistics on the use of the site and to check its correct functioning and is immediately cancelled after processing. Such information may be used to ascertain responsibilities should hypothetical IT crimes be committed to damage the site and for investigations in case of litigations. Information on web contacts does not persist for over 30 days.

RIGHTS OF THE DATA SUBJECT

In your capacity as Data subject, you may exercise, at any time towards the Data Controller, the rights provided by the Regulation (right of access, right to rectification, right to erasure, right to restriction of processing, right to data portability, right to object) by sending a specific request in writing to the e-mail address dpo@intesasanpaolo.com or via post to the following address Exetra SpA c/o Intesa Sanpaolo Tutela Aziendale - Privacy, Piazza San Carlo, 156 - 10121 Turin, Italy, making explicit reference to www.exetra.com website.

COOKIE POLICY

Cookies are small strings of text exchanged between a server and a web client. They are used for automatic authentication, session tracking and storage of specific information about the users accessing the server. This site uses the following type of cookies:

Technical Cookies (do not require consent under current regulations)

Some operations cannot be completed without the use of cookies, which in some cases are therefore technically necessary.

This site uses cookies to optimise users' navigation. These technologies do not, in any case, permit the storage of the data or credentials of the users or other information on the device, to ensure that the security level of the website is maintained intact. This site may also use cookies to save your navigation preferences and optimise your browsing experience. These cookies may include language and currency settings, or cookies for the management of aggregate and anonymous statistics by the site owner. Technical Cookies also covers the so-called "Web Analytics", which are used to collect aggregate and anonymous statistics on site use by visitors.

Managing cookies from browser settings

This website works best if cookies are enabled. Using your browser settings you can, however, disable the use of cookies on your computer. If you completely disable cookies, you may disable some functionalities of the site or prevent it from functioning. Even with all cookies disabled, your computer will continue to store a small quantity of information, which is necessary for the basic functioning of the site. For information on how to change your cookie settings, you can refer to the website of the browser manufacturer you are using.
